ARCTIC WHALE ADVENTURE

- Warm, waterproof shoes. We recommend “Muckboots” (neoprene boots)
- Warm socks and underwear. We recommend i.e. “fourth elements”
- Warm and weatherproof jacket and pants (at least two sets)
- Gloves, warm hood and scarf. We recommend to bring two sets in case something gets wet.
- Crocs / slippers
- Thermos
- Other clothes and personal belongings (including sun protection and sun glasses). The ship provides bed linen and towels.
- Please use large travel bags (for example XXL Duffel Bags from North Face with 150l); The best way to stow and carry. Suitcases, especially with wheels, are relatively impractical and cannot be stowed lower deck.

- Photo- and film gear should be transported and stored in water- and shock proof cases.
- Batteries might have to be changed/charged more often due to cold temperatures.
- Photo/film: tele lense 200-500 mm, standard zoom and wide angle are used most regularly. Lightconditions are usually good. It might make sense to bring tripod for landscape photo. Underwater flash/light is usually not possible to use. Binoculars available on the ship, but you can bring your own.
- For underwater photo- and film: both, macro and wide angle are good to bring, as well as strobes.

- Dry suit, hood (7-9 mm), gloves (3-finger), mask, snorkel, fins, under suit, BCD, cold water regulators, other individual dive gear/spare parts.

- Passport, credit cards with PIN, insurance papers, visa papers (for travelers from countries who need to apply for a visa for visiting Norway)

NOTE: this is just a basic list which cannot replace your individual packing list which is adapted to your personal tour. I.e. you might need driver license, if you plan to extend your stay and rent a car, or medicine if you tend to getting sea sick. You are welcome to contact us in case of questions regarding what to bring on this trip.
